SNAPSHOTS ACTRESS, PUT OUT OF THEATRE.

Man Who Annoyed Georgia Caine
Yanked from Seat with His Friend.

Two young men who said they were Joseph Averill and Charles Russell, of the Hotel Wellington, were ejected from the Casino Theatre last night for trying to take a snapshot picture of Georgia Caine during the performance of the "Earl and the Girl." They occupied orchestra seats near the stage at the matinee performance and amused themselves by making remarks about the chorus girls. During the intermission an usher warned them.

At the performance last night the men occupied the same seats. While Miss Caine was singing one of the men stood up and pointed a camera at her. She complained to Manager Frank Hennessy.

Santa Claus Takes Possession of Brooklyn's Toy Store And Opens the Great Toyland Theatre.

Here may be found the greatest showing of Toys that this city ever saw.

Christmas without Santa Claus would be just about as good as Thanksgiving without turkey. Of course he is the manager of the great Toyland Theatre that opened to-day and told us the true story of Red Riding Hood that is being performed there every day. He came down to look after his actors and actresses, and he was so delighted with the display of his toys that he said he would stay till after Christmas and greet all the little folk every day. So if you have anything you wish to say to him you will meet him in Toyland any time you call—and he just loves little children.

A great big balloon and a red, white and blue cane will be given away with every purchase of 24 cents or over in Toyland to-morrow. And the best of it is that, big and wonderful as Toyland is, every toy is little priced, in many cases about a third below prices charged in other stores:

Wireless Telegraphy--New in Toys.

A Wireless Telegraphic Apparatus will furnish more delight to the boys and girls of the household this Christmas time than all other toys combined. In the Toy Store there is a Wireless Telegraphic Apparatus in almost constant use, where all the details of the working of the system are fully explained. A crowd of eager-eyed boys watching its workings with breathless attention is a certain proof of the fascination of this newest invention, just recently introduced into Toyland.

The transmitting and receiving stations can be set up in any part of a room, or in different rooms of a house. The poles for sound waves are not as littering as many other toys, while the transmitter and receiver are decidedly scientific looking arrangements.

The price of this apparatus is $61.96.
